NEW!

Introducing Flutorials™

a series of progressive, supplemental video lessons for novice flutists

Catherine LeGrand has been inspiring students and audiences for over 25 years. Her career is centered on the quest for more efficient and expressive performance and on sharing her discoveries with students and colleagues.

She cultivates a worldwide private flute studio comprised of beginners through professionals, while maintaining a busy personal appearance schedule as soloist, recording artist, chamber musician, traveling pedagogue and clinician. Currently living in North Carolina, she serves as Adjunct Professor of Flute at Campbell University.
